

Congratulations to Dr. "Lardie" Davis

Of all the thousands of new doctors, dentists, lawyers, etc., etc., who were graduated by the various colleges and universities in and around Philadelphia during the last few weeks, none was of more interest to the people of Narberth than Lawrence R. Davis, D. D. S., son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis, of Haverford avenue.

Doctor Davis, or "Lardie" Davis as he is best known in Narberth, is one of the most popular young men in our Borough. He has grown up here and as a basketball and baseball player he has contributed considerable to Narberth's fame as the home town of first class athletes. It was in basketball, however, that Dr. Davis has been a particular star.

After his graduation from Lower Merion High School in 1916, he entered the University of Pennsylvania Dental School, from which he graduated in June. He was captain of the Pennsylvania Varsity Basketball Team.

Dr. Davis has not decided definitely whether he will practice here in Narberth or in Philadelphia, but wherever he establishes himself, Our Town can assure him that he has the best wishes of a host of friends.

Narberth Amateurs Win Third Straight

The victory which the Narberth Reserves won from Paoli Men's Club at Paoli gives the Reserves a berth in the first division, with a fair chance of winning the first half. The Amateurs were handicapped in the beginning of the season by a poor start, but due to the managing of Em Jenkins and the team work and spirit of the other players, the club has been winning steadily.

Death of Charles J. Fryer

For though from out our bourne of time and place,

The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar.

—Tennyson.

There was not a dry eye in the crowded Fairview Union Sunday School on Monday last. Mr. Charles J. Fryer, for forty-one years superintendent and teacher of the Sunday School, passed away at his late residence in Gladwyn, Pa., in the early morning of Friday, June 27th.

Mr. Fryer, who was in his seventy-second year, had been very feeble for some time. A few days before his death he took suddenly ill, and although under the care of skilled physicians and the best of nurses, to prolong his life was like trying to shut out the inevitable.

Mr. Fryer was purely a Fairviewite—born on April 29th, 1847, in a little house overlooking the hills of Manayunk. In his early manhood he devoted his time to his farm and to a thriving butcher business in this vicinity, and only gave up his work as a merchant when his age and failing health compelled him to retire. In his business he worked with God, and his spare time and Sundays he devoted to the spiritual uplift of others. On November 1, 1876, he joined the Gladwyn Presbyterian Church, and held office as an elder of the church since that time. In 1878 Mr. Fryer succeeded Dr. Joseph W. Winter as superintendent of the Fairview Sunday School, reorganized the school after it had been closed for a number of years, and held the office of superintendent until his death. In all those years he never missed a Sunday at Fairview when he was able to attend, and he taught many Sundays when it seemed like a physical impossibility for him to do so. In winter's frigid weather, in summer's torrid sun, in blizzard, or in shower, he trudged or rode in his carriage to Fairview.

Mr. Fryer's wife, nee Rachael Yetter,

Editorial

There is every indication that July will be a hot and dry month.

All hail to the Dove of Peace. May she have a long rest, after her arduous search for the olive branch.

The Fourth of July, just passed, is the most memorable since the first celebration in 1776. The seed of Liberty, planted 141 years ago, has grown to a mighty tree, under whose beneficent shade the whole world may find rest and comfort.

The local School Board merits our warmest congratulations on the high character of the school in all its departments. It is a splendid organization. We doubt whether there is any other school in the State that has made a better showing, or where there is a closer and more loyal co-operation between trustees, faculty and students. There is no more important work in any community than the training of its boys and girls. Success in this great work is only possible when the School Board gives its best thought and labor to the selection of principal and teachers, and to making the very best possible use of the funds at its disposal to provide an adequate equipment. This requires devoted and unstinted work. The standing of our school is most satisfactory evidence that our Board measures up to the mark in every particular.

We have received several favorable comments regarding the report of the Narberth High School Commencement Week, appearing in our last issue. The Editor appreciates the thoroughness with which this report was made, and sincerely hopes that the contributor of this article will be with us again very soon.

In nearly every instance the small advertisements in the Classified Column bring results, and you should not lose the opportunity of taking advantage of the service offered by our Classified Advertisement Column.

Short, crisp Fireside items are wanted for Our Town. Do not hesitate to send in any local happenings, even though it concerns yourself or your family. Of course, the name of the sender will not appear, so you need not hesitate to send in any short local happenings of a personal nature.

While it is to be regretted that the Narberth Baseball Club has apparently made such a poor showing, yet our boys should not be discouraged in finding themselves in last place in the first half of the Main Line League. It is to be hoped that they will work up to their usual high standard of baseball, as it is evident that they will improve as time goes on, and undoubtedly the past will then be forgotten.

At the time of going to press, it is too early to comment upon the happenings in Narberth on the Fourth, but from various preparations made, there is no doubt but that it was spent with enthusiasm, patriotism, and in pleasant diversions of various kinds. We hope to get a full report in our next issue.

If your organization is not getting some good out of the Calendar of Coming Events, which appears on the first page of Our Town, it is not the fault of the paper. It offers you the opportunity of letting the Narberth people know just when your organization will hold that important event.

Additional Travel Allowance for Discharged Soldiers

NARBERTH MEN CAN SECURE BLANK FORMS FROM LOCAL
Y. M. C. A.

The Director of Finance having practically completed payment of the $60 bonus, involving about 1,400,000 claims, is now settling additional travel allowance due enlisted men of the Army under Section 3 of the Act approved February 28, 1919, which authorized travel pay to enlisted men honorably discharged since November 11, 1918, at the rate of 5 cents per mile to actual bona fide home or residence, or place of original muster into the service, at the option of the soldier.

The Comptroller of the Treasury by decisions rendered April 17 and May 3, 1919, has authorized the War Department to make settlement of all claims for the 1½ cent difference from place of discharge to place of entry into the military service, also the claims for additional allowance to actual bona fide home or residence at date of discharge when such bona fide home or residence can be determined from the affidavit of the soldier and verified by information contained in his original service record.

A blank form of application, which includes the necessary affidavit for the additional travel allowance, may be obtained from the Narberth Y. M. C. A. This affidavit must be accompanied by a true copy of soldier's discharge certificate, certified as such by a recruiting officer, or the original discharge certificate, the latter to be returned with check. While payment will be made on the original discharge certificate, claimants are advised that the use of the copy will eliminate the possibility of the loss of the original. No further correspondence is necessary except in case of change in address.

A certified copy of discharge certificate submitted for payment of $60 bonus and now on file in the Zone Finance Office will be accepted in lieu of other copy of original discharge certificate. Men who have submitted these certified copies will so state when forwarding claim. Payments will be made as expeditiously as circumstances permit.

In the event that the actual bona fide home or residence at date of discharge, as claimed by the soldier, is not the same as stated on his original service record, the Zone Finance Officer will make settlement for the additional 1½ cent per mile on the same basis that the 3½ cents per mile was paid (that is, from place of discharge to place of entry into military service), and soldier may make claim to the Auditor for the War Department for any additional travel pay which he believes may be due him.

Men who have been discharged since February 28, 1919, and paid travel allowance at 5 cents per mile to place of entry into military service, and whose actual bona fide home or residence at date of discharge involved a greater distance, may submit claim to the Zone Finance Officer, Washington, D. C., as above.

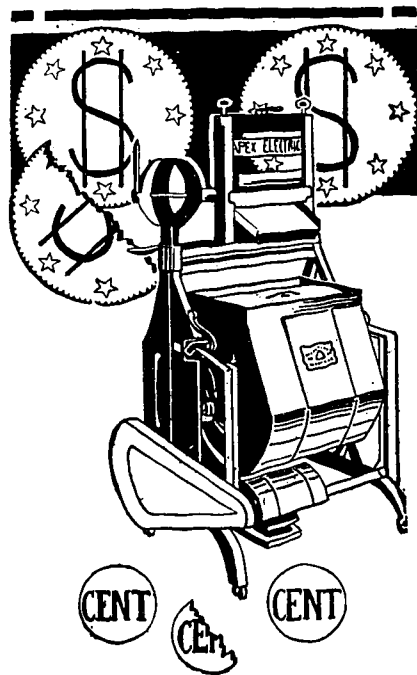

It is pointed out that settlement of travel allowance claims cannot be accomplished with the same rapidity which obtained in the payment of the $60 bonus. Each claim will require certain verification by War Department records, this to be followed by mileage calculations in the Zone Finance Office. The need for accuracy is obvious, necessitating a specialized office personnel, and it is hoped that this circumstance will not be overlooked by those concerned.

A statistician has estimated that the total cost of the war to all the nations involved will amount to $200,000,000,000. Staggering as is the money cost, it is small in comparison with the price paid in blood and the suffering to millions of others. And yet there are men in America who scoff and seek to defeat the effort to prevent the recurrence of such a calamity.

Some persons of fluent speech have a serious impediment in their thoughts.

True happiness consists in the pursuit of a thing rather than in the catching thereof.

You may silence conscience, but you cannot take away its frown.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR.

It seemed that when Rastus and Sam died they took different routes; so when the latter got to heaven he called Rastus on the 'phone.

"Rastus," he said, "how yo' like it down thar?"

"Oh, boy. Dis here am some place!" replied Rastus. "Al we has ter do is to wear a red suit with horns, an' den shovel some coal on de fire. We don't work no more dan two hours out of de twenty-four down here. But tell me, Sam, how is it with you up yonder?"

"Mah goodness! We has to git up at fo' o'clock in de mawnin' an' guthah in de stahs; den we has to haul in de moon an' hang out de sun. Den we has ter roll de clouds aroun' all day long!"

"But, Sam, how comes it yo' has ter work so hard?"

"Well, to tell the truf, Rastus, we's kin' o' short o' help up here."

ALMOST TOO HARD.

"Listen to this, Maria," said Mr. Stubbs, as he unfolded his scientific paper. "This article states that in some of the old Roman prisons that have been unearthed they found the petrified remains of the prisoners."

"Good gracious, John!" exclaimed Mrs. Stubbs with a smile; "them's what they call hardened criminals, I expect!"

MIKE AND DUTCHY.

The captain of a schooner was lounging on the dock while the cargo was being taken aboard. An Irishman stepped up and asked for a job before the mast.

"Well," said Captain Lightwind, "where are your recommendations?"

"Shure, and I have none, Cap."

"Don't want you then. Got a German here with fine recommendations. Have to give him the job."

Mike pleaded so hard, however, that the captain finally agreed to take him and the German both on a trial trip, the best man to get the job.

They were well out to sea when a storm came up. While Mike and Dutchy were swobbing the deck a big wave swept the Dutchman overboard, with his bucket.

Mike immediately picked up his bucket and started after the captain.

"Well, Mike, what's the matter now?" inquired the captain.

"Begorrah, sur, ye know that Dutchy what had such fine recommendations?"

"Well, what of him?"

"Faith, sur, an' he's gone off wid one of your buckets."

THE WORM IN THE WHISKY.

A certain well-known evangelist was lecturing on intemperance and its very bad effects on the body. By way of example he exhibited a glass of water and a glass of whisky. "Now I have here a live worm, which I will place in the water, and you will observe how it wriggles and squirms around, with no ill effects. I will now place it in the whisky and see what a difference. The worm does not move. In a minute it is dead. Now that goes to show you what harm it does in both ways."

Just then that ubiquitous Irishman at the end of the hall jumped up and said: "Reverend sor, have you any more of that whisky?"

"I guess so," said the clergyman.

"Why?"

"Well, sor, I am troubled greatly with worm in my stomach." M. Mc.

"William the Conqueror," read the small boy from his history, "landed in England in 1066 A. D."

"What does A. D. stand for?" inquired the teacher.

The small boy pondered.

"I don't exactly know," he said. "Maybe it's after dark."—The New York Times.

ONE OF THE "BETTER BABIES."

A schoolmaster had just finished an instructive lesson on "Food," when little Ambrose raised his hand with much determination.

"Well, Ambrose, what is it?" questioned the teacher.

"Please, sir, Clarence Dudley said he knew a baby that was brought up on elephant's milk, and it gained ten pounds in weight every day."

"It was the elephant's baby, sir," up on elephant's milk?"

hesitatingly replied the chap.—People's Home Journal.

"Clarence ought not tell such rubbish," replied the master. Then addressing the other boy, he said: "Tell me, Clarence, whose baby was brought died on July 9, 1909. The deceased is survived by a son, William Fryer.

That Mr. Fryer had many friends was evidenced at the funeral services held in the Fairview Sunday School at 3 o'clock P. M., on Monday of this week, when hundreds of persons from far and near attended and sat quietly and with expressions of sadness, while Rev. S. R. Smith, of Philadelphia, a life-long friend of the deceased, and Rev. Frank Rose, pastor of the Gladwyn Presbyterian Church, pronounced the last rites, and later when those same people filed slowly by the bier of the one they loved. Banked around the casket were scores of floral wreaths and sprays from relatives and friends. Handsome floral tributes were paid by the Fairview Union Sunday School, the Gladwyn Presbyterian Church, Cassia Lodge, No. 273, F. and A. M., and Montgomery Chapter, No. 262, R. A. M., which organizations attended the services.

The interment took place at the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, Gladwyn.

THE FIRESIDE

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of Bay Ridge, N. Y., have purchased one of the frame houses in Anthwyn Farms of Mr. Samuel Atherholt.

Mr. C. Ritchie has gone to Brandywine Farm, West Chester, where his daughter and family are spending the summer.

Mrs. Edward Odell and her three sons had a family reunion on Saturday last, this being the first time mother and sons have been together in over two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Fulton, Jr., and family, who have resided at No. 1 Chestnut avenue the past two years, have taken an apartment near Forty-third and Parkside avenue, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Nold, Mr. and Mrs. George Orth and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moore and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Fowler and daughters Margaret and Thelma motored to Eastern Shore, Maryland, to spend the Fourth and week end.

The armistice was signed on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. The text of the sermon at the Patriotic Union Meeting to-morrow evening will be from the 11th verse of the 11th chapter of the 11th Book of the Bible.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Boy Scouts of America is one of the largest organizations in the country, with a membership of half a million men and boys, but 250 of their leaders are paid officials. What better tribute could be paid a movement that is so fundamentally sound, and so attractive that it can enlist the volunteer services of 100,000 busy men?

Rex Beach's latest screen offering, "The Crimson Gardinia," to be shown at the Palace Theatre, Ardmore, on Wednesday, is a story of lively adventure and romance. It holds attention principally through curiosity as to the outcome of some melodramatic situations and live interest in the way a man trapped in a room completely surrounded by a band of crooks and his clever release by the police, who round up the entire band of criminals. Owen Moore has the leading role, and is supported by Hedda Nova and a most excellent cast of players.

Mr. W. C. Poor entertained his Sunday School class at his home, 201 Forest avenue, on Friday evening. The guests included: The Misses Madeline McCoy, Nellie Cook, Florentine Mueller, Dorothy Durbin, Edith Humphreys, Lillian Redifer, Betty McCaig, Sidney Bolick, Nellie Smith, Miss Knutson, Messrs. Donald Kirk, Wayne Harris, Gordon Harris, Henry Smith, William Harris, Dr. Graman, Leslie Smith, William Durbin, George McCaig, Perry Redifer. Mr. Poor and his class extend a very cordial invitation to all young people of Narberth, who are not connected with any other Sunday School, to join their class at the Presbyterian Church at 10 o'clock every Sunday morning. A social evening is enjoyed once a month, giving strangers a good opportunity to get acquainted with the young folks of Narberth.

COUNTY'S FINANCES

Number of Statistics That Will Prove of Interest.

On the eve of the payment of the 1919 county taxes, which the Treasurer has been receiving since the 1st of June, the net cash balance in the treasury, for all purposes, was $332,510.24, which was $16,587.46 less than the balance on hand at the beginning of May. The difference represents the excess of disbursement in May over the receipts for the same month. The actual balance in the county funds account at the beginning of the present month was $253,154.23, the balance of the cash balance being credited to various special accounts.

Of the total receipts during May, the mercantile license fees totaled $7,183.80, the receipts in the office of the Recorder of Deeds were $3,658.30, while the payments for county taxes, including delinquents, were $2,039.72. Of the other receipts there is included $433 for maintenance of insane from estate of patients at State Hospital, while the cash for labor, etc., at the prison was $146.39. Liquor license fees to the amount of $83.37 were also paid.

Of the total disbursements of $36,174.61, the largest item was for work on turnpikes, etc., amounting to $6,924.33, while the work on bridges aggregated $1,524.63. The prison maintenance totaled $2,035.67 and that of the county home was $4,378.48.

LOWER MERION PLAYGROUNDS CELEBRATE OFFICIAL OPENING

Lower Merion Township's three playgrounds had their official opening Monday at Ardmore, Bala and Bryn Mawr. The grounds are completely equipped and provide play places for hundreds of children of surrounding communities, especially the one at Ardmore, which is the largest of the three.

Edwin S. Lowden, as director of township playgrounds, is in charge, with Miss Dorothy Axford, Miss Catharine Renshaw, Miss Elizabeth Lanning and Miss L. Mildred Bishop as his assistants. The Ardmore playground actually has been open for several weeks, with unofficial caretakers in charge to watch over the youngsters, through a co-operative arrangement between the Main Line Citizens' Association and the Ardmore Civic Association.

Historic Main Line Hotels Are Closed

THE GENERAL WAYNE, THE RED LION AND THE MERION SQUARE AMONG THE NUMBER.

MORE THAN 200 YEARS OLD

Prohibition Ends Days of Hostelties Visited by William Penn and Anthony Wayne.

(From Thursday's Public Ledger.) Five hotels, located in Lower Merion Township and two in the Haverford Township, closed their doors at midnight Monday. Some of them, like similar institutions in the city, anticipated the closing hour to get rid of noisy customers.

Among the five places which closed—and, by the way, closed tight—in Lower Merion, were three of the most famous inns, from a historic point of view, in this section of the country.

They were the General Wayne Inn, on Montgomery avenue at the edge of Narberth Borough; the Merion Square Hotel, at Gladwyne, and the Red Lion Hotel, at Ardmore.

Although not quite the oldest, the most famous of all three is the General Wayne, opened in 1704, as the Wayside Inn, by Quaker settlers. Old Merion Friends' Meeting House, which cherishes a wooden wall peg on which William Penn hung his hat on several occasions of visit, is on the property adjoining the inn, and because of Penn's visits to the neighborhood the inn changed its name to the William Penn Hotel during the later colonial days.

Across Montgomery avenue is an old log blacksmith shop, where General Cornwallis had his horses shod, in Revolutionary times, and "Mad Anthony" Wayne used the inn as his headquarters during the same period, and this gave the inn its present name.

The old Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad used to run past the inn, which served as a station on the line.

The Merion Square Hotel dates back to an even earlier time by a few years and has been in existence as a licensed place, its greatest period of prosperity having been in the old time when traffic from Philadelphia over the Conshohocken state road was heavy. The General Wayne Inn has been a polling place for more than 200 years, and about fifty years ago Lower Merion was divided into two precincts, and a separate polling place was established in the Merion Square Hotel.

The Red Lion Hotel, at Ardmore, was opened as a licensed drinking establishment a short time before the Revolution. During the period of the Conestoga wagons it was a stopping place for the "freight" drivers.

Not even 2½ per cent. beer was obtainable on the Main Line yesterday. The Ardmore Hotel, Ardmore's other inn, closed early Monday night. The place has been sold by William Armstrong, the proprietor, to the Autocar Company.

The Belmont race track saloon, the Penn Hotel, at Bryn Mawr, and the Eagle Hotel, at Eagle, also closed.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow townsman, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
